

PRECorp files line extension changes

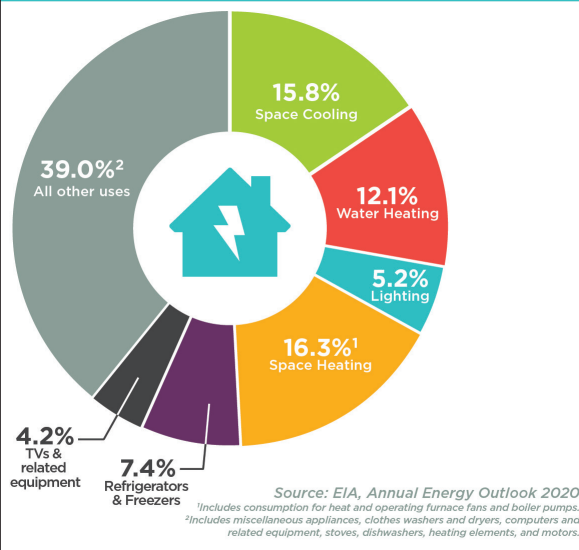

Powder River Energy Corporation has filed line extension policy and procedure changes with the Wyoming Public Service Commission (PSC).

Information on this filing can be found at: www.precorp.coop/public-service-commission

The changes are intended to better facilitate the process of extending distribution lines to serve new loads.

How Americans Use Electricity

The latest data from the U.S. Energy Information Administration shows the combined use of clothes washers and dryers, computers, dishwashers, small appliances and other electrical equipment (noted as "all other uses" below) accounts for nearly 40% of electricity consumption in American homes.

Energy Efficiency Tip of the Month

Replace standard power strips with advanced power strips to save energy. Advanced power strips look like ordinary power strips, but they have built-in features that are designed to reduce the amount of energy used by standby electronics that consume energy even when they're not in use (also known as phantom load).

The National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) estimates that the average home loses $200 annually to energy wasted by phantom loads.
